A few 10 and 20-acre tracts south of Auburn only 3 miles, and 3½ miles from Newcastle; they are located upon a choice tract of land; has a southern slope, and for citrus fruit the location cannot be surpassed; the land adjoining is being set out in trees and vines, being part of the same tract, having been purchased of us last spring, making quite a colony, which adds materially to the value of these tracts offered; we have not increased the prices over those sold last year, although we consider their value has been increased one-third by the improving of the adjoining lands; they are not only choice fruit lands, but will pay well to hold as an investment. Terms, $15 to $35 per acre; one-third cash; deferred payments at a low rate of interest. ments at a low rate of interest.

No. 100—For $6,006; 180 acres; 150 cleared, upon which there is 5 acres in Vine-yard, 12 acres in Orchard, 1 acre in Raspberries; timber scattered over the place, which will be easily cleared; soil of red slate and granite formation; Bear River Ditch runs through the place; besides there are 4 fine Springs; Dwelling of 4 rooms; Stable; fine well of water; only 2½ miles from Auburn; 3½ miles from Newcastle.

No. 121—For $7,500—550 acres, situated at the head of Penn Valley, 7 miles west of Grass Valley; has the first right to irrigation ditch and the numerous flowing springs; 4 large barns; Dwelling-house; Cow-sheds; fenced and cross-fenced with boards; 2,000 bearing vines; 500 bearing fruit trees; berries enough for fa mily use; 150 acres well adapted to alfalfa; this will make a fine fruit or stock ranch; Penn Valley is so situated that the surrounding hills can be used for stock raising purposes, this being the most advantageously situated of all others in the valley. Terms, one-half cash.

No. 104—87,000—440 acres, 340 acres of which are tillable; 100 acres cleared; 300 acres fenced into 3 fields; good House, Barn and Outbuildings; all tools; 1 spring wagon; 1 farmers' wagon; 1 buggy, nearly new; 4 sets work harness; buggy harness and hay press included in price; abundant living water; numerous springs; good irrigation facilities from a ditch running near the land; one-half cash, balance on long time at low interest.

Parties seeking HOMES OR INVESTMENTS will find it to their interest to give us a call, as we are the Oldest and have the Largest List of Lands to select from of any Real Estate Agency in Northern California.

A CLOSING BANQUET.

As a finale of the Grand Army Encampment and the Woman's Relief Corps Convention, a grand camp-fire or banquet was given in the evening, at Armory Hall, by Summer and Warren Posts and Summer and Warren Posts and Summer and Warren Relief Gorps. The occasion was a great success. Past Commander Warfield stated that it was the largest camp-fire ever held in the department or upon the coast. The walls and ceiling were gaily and neatly decorated with flags, streamers, banners, etc., and under the brilliant blaze of electric and gas light presented a fine appearance. There were five tables spread the entire length of the hall, and 500 covers laid. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers and potted plants, and as the vast company marched in and took their seats, closely filling the immense hall, the scene was very inviting. Under each pla, ewas placed a white satin lapel souvenir, with the badge of the Grand Army in gold and the national colors, and the words in blue, "Nincteenth Annual Camp-fire, Department of California. Welcome to Our Guests."

The delegates and invited guests met at the Golden Eagle at 8 o'clock, and marched favor of the slayer, has been eager-after by members of the press teem for the retiring Commander, which was unanimously adopted.

A beautiful Past Department Commander badge, of gold, with diamond stars, was presented to Commander Warfield. The presentation remarks were made by A. T. Bird, and appropriate and feeling response by the Past Commander.

The Encampment then adjourned sine die.

During the examination, which closed Saturday, the Court-Room was Denselly Packed, Not from morbid curiosity, but from the fact that the public is deeply interested in obtaining all the facts. The defendants were represented by numerous and able counsel, chief among whom was Henry E. Highton, a gentleman who has a national reputation as a criminal lawyer. The State he examination, which closed

The alternates for the delegates to the National Convention were elected, as follows: Mrs. Sarah C. Boland. Mrs. Kate McGrew, Mrs. Lulu E. Warfield, Mrs. Olive Welsh, Mrs. Mattic Medley.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be tendered the press of Sacramento and San Francisco for their specially kind and complimentary notices of the meetings and workings of the W. R. C. Convention in this city; also, that we extend a vote of thanks to the ladies of Warren and Summer Corps for their uniform courtesy and hospitality on this occasion, and that we extend the same to the managers of the Crocker Art Gallery and School of Design for their kind invitation to visit them, which was not only accepted, but most fully appreciated by the members of the W. Mrs. Alice Scadler, of Warren Corps, this city, Department Installing Officer, then installed the newly-elected officers. At the lengthy, able and argumentative address,

Mrs. Alice Seadler, of Warren Corps, this city, Department Installing Officer, then installed the newly-elected officers. At the conclusion of the installation a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Seadler, for the able and impressive manner in which she conducted the installation ceremonies.

Mrs. Governor Stoneman, on behalf of the retiring officers, in a few well chosen remarks, presented Mrs. Russell with a beautiful basket of flowers. The President, in response, thanked the Convention for their appreciation and the honors conferred, and promised to take hold of the good work concluded during the past year by the retiring President, Mrs. Kinne, and push it forward with untiring zeal until the Relief Corps shall be found with workers throughout the Department, striving in faith, charity and loyalty to accomplish the noble principles of the order.

The delegates and invited guests met at the Golden Eagle at 8 o'clock, and marched to the hall in a body, to the step of music by the full Hussar Band, playing "Marching Through Georgia." The band was also stationed upon the platform in the hall throughout the evening, and discoursed most excellent music for the occasion. The catering was under the personal supervision of Henry Fisher, and in quality and service was highly pleasing to hosts and guests. Commander Warfield, the retiring chief officer of the Department, as master of ceremonies, occupied a seat at the head of the center table, and next to him were the newly-elected Grand Army and Relief Corps officers, together with the retiring officials.

After about an hour spent in feasting, the concluding programme was entered upon and was as follows, the toasts responded to being given after the name of each speaker:

articles appeared in the Record-Union of Saturday on this important topic. Both oth strong pleas for activity in politics by agers" of party. The first was from a voter who may be assumed to be well qualified to speak of the maleficent influence of such rule. The other is from a voter who prefers anonymity, but who is himself 2 prominent example of neglect of the duty-doing so bitterly criticised by the first. His may be said to be but a recital. in an odd way, that in the genesis of political activity the mass of the voters have little or no part, since the planning of office-filling-and hence of governmental administration-is done for them, or in despite of them. The writer of the first letter lays the premise that the "bosses" in both parties rule; peddle out the offices; fleece candidates; turn loose upon them an army of eeches and blackmailers, and that the people at large are simply at their mercy. Then follows the conclusion that the remedy is greater activity, and personal con-

Indidental to this idea a sneer at the "myth civil service reform and non-partisan efforts to divorce politics from the administration of municipal government. Both letters well illustrate the fable of the mice and the cat. Both want the cat belled, but they both insist that the mice must do it, and thus get a step beyond the parable. Now the two columns and more of pro-

It must be clear to every one who has given these topics much consideration, that whatever of evil exists in party management springs from the patronage-power attaching to it. Intrigue must have a motive. It has no vitality whatever that does not arise out of motive, and the only motive possible for political intrigue is reward-personal reward; it may be

Mrs. Rice answered, 'They would not be good if they did not cost money,' and he had better take them over to another neighbor's, where Keeley's wife was, calling her own daughter a vile name. Keeley answered that if she was such, that the mother was one also: at which Mrs. Rice struck at Keeley with the however.

the mother was one also; at which Mrs. Rice struck at Keeley with the hammer. Keeley caught her by the throat with his left hand, and warded off the blows with his right. On the hammer dropping, Keeley let loose his grip on her throat, and Mrs. Rice fell dead. Such is the statement given by Keeley. There was no other witness to the crime. Keeley was a resident of San Francisco till lately."

A note received by the Record-Union from Postmaster G. S. Tong, of Clarksville, says relative to the deceased: "Mrs. Rice is an old pioneer of this locality. Came here in 1852, and settled on her ranch, where she was killed, in 1853. She was a where she was killed, in 1853. She was a voman of great energy, and is supposed to be well off in real property and cash. Her husband died about two years ago. husband died about two years ago. Mrs. Rice was honest and upright in all her dealings. She was about 65 years of age and a native of Vermont. Keeley weeps bitterly over the deed he has committed."

FIRE SATURDAY MORNING. John Senich Arrested on a Charge of In-

About 2:30 A. M. Saturday it was discovered that the Universal Restaurant, on the southwest corner of Third and J streets, was on fire. An alarm was turned in, and the fire department soon arrived and extinguished the blaze, principally by the use of a Babcock extinguisher. It was found that a fire had been started in the corner of the kitchen farthest from the range, and that a woolen curtain separating the two dining-rooms had also been ignited, and in burning had charred the woodwork. There was a row of thirteen demijohns behind was a row of thirteen demiljohns behind the bar, and they were separated from each other by large pieces of newspaper, satu-rated with coal oil, and the wickerwork about the demijohns had also been wet with the inflammable liquid. Whoever set the fire made his preparations carefully, pulled down the window shades so that no one could see into the place from the out side without taking considerable trouble and expected the blaze would spread so rapidly that the destruction would be com plete. If his scheme had been successful to the extent planned, the lives of the people in the upper portion of the building would have been endangered. The same restaurant caught fire some months ago, when the proprietor, John Senich, was in San Francisco on his wedding trip, but there was not much damage done. On this occasion, as the evidences of incendiarism were so palpable, and there was an insurance of $2,500 upon the establishment, officers Ash and Sullivan arrested Senich on a charge of incendiarism. He was found at his residence, near by, partly dressed. In response to queries, he stated that he closed the restaurant about 10

CHINESE OFFENDERS REMANDED.

On Saturday, ten Chinamen who had, baseball game between the Red Stockings of an Act of the Legislature, passed April and Blue Stockings of San Francisco, 3, 1876, commonly known as the cubic air organizations, couplosed, evelocity of law, were brought before Department One organizations composed exclusively of law, were brought before Department One ton's Birthday. organizations composed exclusively of women. It was not expected that the game would amount to much as an exhibition of skill, but the spectators were not prepared for a performance quite as miserable as that which was given. The players wore a Bloomer costume which had an appearance anything but graceful, and they were not so remarkably handsome and graceful themselves as to compensate for it. While they were not a success as ball-tossers, their conduct was unexceptionable, and their quietness might be copied by clubs composed of masculines with good results. They did not put in an appearance until half an hour or more after the hour amnounced for the game, and the spectators amused themselves watching the futile efforts of an officer to did the spectators amused themselves watching the futile efforts of an officer to in number. The entire eighteen came up from San Francisco, but for some reason best known to themselves and their manager, four would not play. After the game commenced the audience were managed with the fourteen as well as they were brought before Department One of the Superior Court, Judge Van Fleet presiding, upon a writ of habeas corpus. City Attorney W. A. Anderson and District Attorney H. L. Buckley appeared for the Ferondant Henry Start for petitioners. The ground urged by counsel for the players wore a Bloomer costume which had an appearance anything but graceful, and they were not a success as ball-tossers, their conduct was unexceptioners for release, was that the law in Gall to-morrow evening. He did not the ball out of the diamond, and when one of them made a hit, it was safe enough to keep on running, but they generally stopped for breath at all way stations. All of them threw the ball over-hand, in the usual feminine manner. One of the pitchers had the position of a Sweeney or Incell, and made such preparation that the spectators expected the ball to pass with immense force; but these were false pretenses, ending with the same old toss. One of the catchers exercised considerable judgment, stooping down so that her skirts might stop the "grounders" that other-

The Mind Reader. Brown, the mind reader, had a good audience at the Clunie Opera House last night. His mind reading was admirable his "spiritualistic" phenomena were transfrom the stage. On his return he took who happened along, there would be one Beals by the hand, and after some winding less number of the Jones family left. Beals by the hand, and after some winding through the aisles discovered the hidden coin in the pocket of a top coat in a vacan seat. J. J. O'Connor, of the Controller's office, was then selected to fix his mind and whom you would never suspect of such foolishness, is very likely to have been the building. Dingley and the committee alone knew what it was. It was tortuous and long, but Brown went over it without a misstep. A press representative then fixed his mind on a person in the audience Brown went up and down every aisle and then returned to the stage and described the face and figure of William P. Coleman. He then unbound his eyes and went back through the auditorium alone pausing at last before the gentleman described, and saying, "This is the one thought of."

While he was searching out that gentle man the committee was informed pri-vately whom he should find if successful These tests were very interesting and well made; and, as far as human precaution could prevent, beyond the possibility of trickery or deceit. Only Half Alive.

There are hosts of men and women wino, There are hosts of men and women who, to coin a phrase, are only half alive. That is to say, they have seldom if ever any appetite, are nervous, weak, fidgety and troubled by numberless small pains and aches. In the presence of vigorous, exuberant vitality they seem mere pigmies. Such persons are usually fond of frequently dosing themselves, swallowing in the course of the year enough drugs to stock any apothecary's shop of average dimensions. This, of course, defeats instead of furthering the end in view, viz: the recovery of health and vigor. Were they to seek it from an unfailing source of vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, how different would be their case. Then vigor would return to their debilitated frames, the glow of health to their wan cheeks, their trembling uncertain gait would grow firm and elastic, appetiie, that grandest of all sances, would give a relish for the daily food, were it ever so coarse, and refreshing sleep would crown the tasks of the day.
